AGRICULTURAL SCHOLARSHIPS

Canada has the potential to lead the world in food production, technology and environmental policy. To achieve this, Nuffield Canada needs your support to help us develop people, explore new ideas and bring home a host of innovations to drive Canadian agriculture forward.

OUR VISION

To ignite global exploration, discovery and innovation in Canadian agriculture and food.

OUR MISSION

To provide a dynamic platform for scholars to research, explore and collaborate on innovative ideas, policies, and practices that drive advancements in Canadian agriculture and food.

TRANSPARENCY

Nuffield Canada is a volunteer-driven organization lead by our alumni executive team. Each Scholarship is worth $30,000 CDN. Currently, recipients of the award are encouraged to secure additional funds to maximize the opportunity of this 10+ week,  two-year travel study. Additionally, our Scholars are encouraged to take part in a separate 5-week Global Focus Program, which spans several continents to research and connect with innovative farmers, researchers and policy makers.

WHO IS NUFFIELD CANADA?

Nuffield Canada is a registered charity that awards life-changing scholarships to people in agriculture, food and farming.

Our scholarships enable recipients to broaden their horizons through international study, connections and travel, unlocking their potential and inspiring them to lead positive change in Canadian agriculture and food.

WHY NUFFIELD CANADA?

Nuffield Canada is dedicated to developing visionary leaders who possess the knowledge, skills, and global perspectives necessary to drive Canadian agriculture and food forward.

Nuffield Canada supports the growth of future agri-food leaders and directly influences the adoption of innovative farming practices, environmental stewardship, value-added innovations and frameworks for policy and business. Together, these efforts help create a thriving agricultural and food ecosystem in Canada.

With over 2,000 Nuffield Scholars worldwide, our financial partners are introduced to a global network of passionate thought-leaders who are constantly seeking new ideas, innovations and practices to help advance the value chains that produce food, fibre and fuel. Join us in shaping the future of Canadian agriculture and food!

AGRICULTURAL SCHOLARSHIPS

Canada has the potential to lead the world in food production, technology and environmental policy. To achieve this, Nuffield Canada needs your support to help us develop people, explore new ideas and bring home a host of innovations to drive Canadian agriculture forward.

Nuffield Canada is a dynamic platform for selected scholars to research, explore and collaborate on ideas, innovations, policies, and practices that drive advancements in Canadian agriculture through connecting with the world's largest peer-to-peer farmer and agribusiness network.

William Morris – Lord Nuffield

Founded in 1947 in the UK by Lord Nuffield, the Scholarship in Canada offers a unique opportunity to exceptional Canadians—chosen for their curiosity, generosity, and leadership potential. The experience of extensive travel, research and investigation has directly translated into new business activity, innovation and economic growth here at home. This is our competitive edge.

The commitment of the scholars is evident in the wide range of intensive research which is inclusive of but not limited to production, innovation and technology transfer, soil and land management, rural communities, leadership, markets and marketing, Indigenous agriculture, farm families, agri-tourism, processing and value adding, media, policy and public trust.

Nuffield Canada is the leading stream for information transfer and their impactful stories have been used as a template for industry advancement. The scholars become leaders in their sector. They are major employers, global advocates for Canadian agriculture and agri-business and policy influencers.

At Nuffield Canada our scholars drive change and contribute to resilient communities. We are the only international cross sector influencer in Canadian agriculture with an open platform for global knowledge exchange. We bring it home so all of Canadian agriculture may prosper.
